The 35th Annual CCSC Eastern Regional Conference
October 25th-26th, 2019

Robert Morris University, Moon Township, PA.

The 35th Annual CCSC Eastern Conference will be held at Robert Morris University (RMU) in Moon Township, PA in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area and close the Pittsburgh International Airport. RMU is a private university in suburban Pittsburgh with more than 80 undergraduate and graduate degrees. RMU's School of Communications and Information Systems focuses on designing, delivering, and interpreting information in a variety of forms, and safeguarding and improving the technology for sharing it. Programs like cyber forensics and data analytics prepare students for high-demand fields. RMU was named one of the nation's top schools for an online Master's in Information Assurance degree by Cyberdegrees.org.

The 2019 CCSC Eastern Conference is designed to promote the exchange of information among educators at all levels of the computing sciences, including 4-year and 2-year colleges as well as sessions of interest to K-12 educators. The conference spans all computing disciplines, including computer science, computational science, information systems, information technology, and beyond, and provides an affordable regional forum for the exchange of ideas and information concerning computing and computing curricula in smaller academic institutions. The CCSC Eastern Conference welcomes scholarly papers, posters, workshops, tutorials, and panels on the content, structure, delivery, support, and application of all areas of computing education. There will be workshops, invited speakers, tutorials, panels, student competitions, and sessions for papers and posters.
